

Kathy Henderson - Lullabies podcast credits

1. 'Hush, Baby, Hush', sung by Herbert, selling Aloe Vera to sunburnt tourists on a beach in Jamaica, recorded by Davia Nelson and used with kind permission of The Kitchen Sisters (Davia Nelson & Nikki Silva)
2. Baby crying, recorded by Rebecca Parnell and used under Soundsnap licence
3. 'Dandini Dan', sung by Vezza Sadula, recorded by Nick Thorpe for his book The Danube: A Journey Upriver, and used with thanks.
4. 'Ghum parani mashi pishi' from 'Manobota enjoying Ghum parani mashi pishi' <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9rioSH57yC4>
5. 'Canto de berce de Xacebáns', (traditional Galician folk song), recorded by the Asociación Folclórica e Cultural 'O Fiadeiro', Vigo, Spain, and used with kind permission <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6J1On7YNngs>
6. 'Rhaliweni' (Railway) sung by Sun Glen, on The Thula Project: An Album of South African Lullabies (Worldgoround Records, 2003), used with kind permission. For more information on Worldgoround Records, contact hedwigbarry@icloud.com.

Grateful thanks are due to Kathy's publisher, Frances Lincoln Children's Books, for permitting this podcast.